Headline:
Sunny spells and a few showers.

Today:
A chilly but bright start, with some sunshine around and to the south of Glasgow. Cloud increases through the morning with a few showers around, these becoming confine to Argyll this afternoon. Mainly light southwesterly winds. Maximum temperature 12 deg C (54 deg F).

Tonight:
Mainly dry with long clear spells around and south of Glasgow, but Argyll cloudier with the showers merging into a brief spell of heavier rain overnight. Minimum temperature 3 deg C (37 deg F).

Thursday:
Rather cloudy across Argyll at first with patchy rain, otherwise a bright morning with sunny spells. Cloud increases through the afternoon with outbreaks of rain spreading northeast. Freshening southerly winds. Maximum temperature 13 deg C (55 deg F).

Outlook for Friday to Sunday:
Cloudy with occasionally heavy rain Friday and strong southerly winds for a time. Rather cloudy but mostly dry through the weekend, although Ayrshire and Argyll see some sunny spells.
